1. Principles

• Collect and use personal information only for underwriting, claims, fraud prevention and legal obligations (GLBA).

• Mask SSNs, driver-licence numbers, bank and card numbers in tickets, e-mails and AI prompts.

• Provide the annual privacy notice and honour opt-out rights; state laws (for example CCPA/CPRA in California) may add rights.

• Notify affected individuals and regulators of a data breach within the state-law deadline (often 30-60 days).

2. Use of AI

• AI tools provide decision support only; a licensed human decides coverage, denial and fraud referral.

• AI outputs must be explainable: cite the rule, tool result or document used.

• No protected-class attributes may be used in fraud scoring or pricing.

• Customer personal data must be redacted before being sent to external model providers.
